Gus Marwiah is the Founder and Principal of Marwiah Advisory Services. His firm provides cutting edge holistic financial solutions to Special Needs Families. His personal journey as a parent of a 6 year old autistic child led him to develop the process of creating a Sustainable Special Needs Advisory Plan (S.S.N.A.P). Gus is also the host of S.S.N.A.P Radio, a dedicated Special Needs Radio Show to empower families that have been touched by a special needs child with the knowledge to leverage their EXISTING resources, to fully or partially cover on-going cost of care TODAY - without breaking their bank, tapping into their disposable income or derailing their individual retirement plans. Gus is an active member of the community and lives in Austin, Texas with his two children, Trey (6), and Nyah (4).

"Effective Retirement Planning for Special Needs Families has to go beyond traditional planning for just two adults (the parents), but must also include provisions for the child or children through out the parents retirement in the event the child/ren are unable to become self-sufficient."
